講義・演習概要

This is an introductory course on the Japanese economy with a focus on the status of Japan in the global economy and its basic international economic strategies that supported its postwar economic growth. Lectures focus on familiarizing economics and non-economics majors with Japan's basic policy framework for its international economic relations, and on examining the Japan's progress from postwar reconstruction to global economic superpower. The course will start with a review of the Japanese economy in the world economy today, and will move on from there to a presentation of one topic per session. Topics will be drawn from current issues of concern related primarily to the Japanese economy, but also to social and political developments in Japan. Lectures and class discussions will be conducted in English. Students will be expected to actively contribute to the discussion portion of the lectures.

Students completing this course are expected to become conversant in basic topics pertaining to Japan in the global economy, with particular emphasis on Japan's international trade and investment, and the international exchange of people and ideas. As the discussion portion of the lectures contains extensive references to current events and contemporary Japanese society, politics and culture, students are expected to deepen their knowledge and awareness of issues and developments affecting Japan and the Japanese people.
